Nurturing Students for the Health Care Sector

As per the World Health Organization (WHO), for every 10,000 citizens, there should be one Physiotherapist. In India, the numbers currently stand at near about 4000 qualified physiotherapists highlighting a great shortage.

The need for physiotherapists in hospitals, clinics, rehabilitation centres, schools and defence medical establishments has been on a rise. The employment and career prospects are excellent for physiotherapists and the need is of quality institutions that can educate, train and supply the burgeoning industry.

Looking at the prospects, GD Goenka University, Gurgaon, established the Department of Physiotherapy as a constituent academic unit of School of Medical and Allied Sciences (SMAS).

The department of Physiotherapy since its Establishment in the year 2014, is striving all-out to develop physiotherapy professionals of potential imbued with values of entrepreneurship, ethics and social responsibility.

A Premier Institute

The institute aims to be an internationally recognised centre of excellence in healthcare education and research. It strives to produce competent and compassionate professionals that can provide holistic health care services to all. The Department is supported in its endeavours with unmatched infrastructure in the University with dedicated classrooms, air-conditioned Lecture Theatres with LCD and PA Peripherals.

The Institute has several state-of-the-art Laboratories ranging from—Medical Labs – Anatomy, Physiology, Biochemistry, Pathology; Therapeutics – Clinical Electromyography and Exercise therapy labs, to ICT – Networked Computer and Information Technology Labs.

Presently, the Institute offers Bachelor of Physiotherapy (BPT) and Master of Physiotherapy (MPT) in 4 specialities (Musculoskeletal, Neurology, Cardiopulmonary and Sports). These programs comprise of a tremendous curriculum, covering each student for perfection and highest academic accomplishments, to enable and enhance a winning edge personality in students. What stands apart is surely the Institute's International Medical and Hospital Tie-ups for training and research.
