

Media Report

An awareness campaign titled “Jal Mahotsav: Gaon Ka Utsav – Desh Ka Mahotsav 2026” was successfully organized on 16 March 2026 in Village Dohla, Block Sohna, under the Jal Jeevan Mission of the Department of Drinking Water and Sanitation, Ministry of Jal Shakti, Government of India. The programme aimed to spread awareness about safe drinking water, sanitation, water conservation, and community participation in sustainable water management.

The campaign witnessed the enthusiastic participation of 35 NSS volunteers, conducted under the guidance of Dr. Kunal Adhikary (NSS Programme Officer) and Mr. Rahul Dhankar (Faculty In-Charge). The team began the programme by interacting with the Sarpanch and village representatives, seeking their support for community engagement.

As part of the initiative, volunteers conducted a household questionnaire survey to assess villagers’ awareness regarding water sources, sanitation, and conservation practices. This was followed by an awareness rally across the village, where volunteers raised slogans and displayed posters promoting responsible water usage and hygiene.

A Nukkad Natak on the theme “Sujalam Bharat” was also performed by NSS volunteers, creatively highlighting the importance of water conservation and sanitation. The performance effectively conveyed the message to villagers and received enthusiastic appreciation from the community.

The campaign concluded with the distribution of informative pamphlets containing practical tips on safe drinking water, sanitation, and government water initiatives. The programme successfully enhanced awareness among villagers and encouraged collective responsibility toward sustainable water management.

Such initiatives strengthen community participation and support the goals of the Jal Jeevan Mission, contributing toward building a clean, healthy, and water-secure India.
